World Search Group Appoints Director

Toronto, Canada, February 1, 2007 --- World Search Group today announced the appointment of Lynn McGregor as Director of Association Development effective February 1, 2007.

This new position is a strategic step in the growth and development of this international group of executive search firms, currently ranked 18th in the 2006 list of largest executive search firms worldwide, as reported by search-consult magazine.

“We are delighted to have Ms McGregor on board to assist World Search Group in moving to our next level of growth,” said Jim Carlisle, current chairman of World Search Group and managing partner of Western Management Consultants, Toronto. “Our goal is to develop the World Search Group brand and increase global and industry awareness of this unique organization in the coming year.”

World Search Group recently added several new members to its fold, bringing the total number of individuals to 42 in 30 member firms and 20 countries worldwide.
